

THE MASTERS SERIES 2021

Game 1 – Lakeside Camden – Sunday, 7th March

The first game of this new series went off without a hitch on a perfect day and on a golf course in immaculate condition – 4 temporary greens aside which weren't all that bad anyway.

Ken Rogers, with 39 points, took advantage of his home ground venue and leads the field in the race to Macquarie Fields in November by 3 points from Peter McLoughlin, Keith McLaren and Michael Lees. A raft of players is sitting just behind the pace with 13 of the 20 starters recording 30 points or better.

Group 4 brought back the only Survival Ball to collect $20 each.

Apart from the obvious disruption of a construction site in the middle of the property, Lakeside is a very different course to the original Peter Thompson design of a few years ago. A new layout in places and greens with swales and humps make the comparison like chalk and cheese. When completed it will be a tough layout indeed and, to my mind, joining the modern design thinking of golf courses with more length, very difficult greens and tough approaches is a retrograde step to the average golfer – the game really is hard enough without discouraging the vast majority of us by making it too penal.
